
Salvia subrotunda

Description: Woody-based perennial from Brazil and Argentina and related to S. coccinea. Produces an abundance of clear red flowers on long stems. Given to us by Robin Middleton

Hardiness: Tender, but easily grown from self-saved seeds.

Height: 90cm